CANNERIES NEAR OGDEN HAVE HAD A MOST SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Twenty-nine Factories Have Turned Out Nearly a Million Cases of Tomatoes and Other Canned Products—Pack Requires Over Twenty-two Million Cans—Entire Output Has Been Marketed.

The annual report of the Utah Cannery association on the pack of the various products for the year 1913 was completed yesterday by Secretary Treasurer H. L. Herrington of the association, and is as follows:

No. 2 tomatoes	3,561
No. 2 1/2 tomatoes	602,645
No. 1 tomatoes	4,400
No. 10 tomatoes	12,823
No. 2 peas	190,750
No. 10 peas	2,515
No. 2 string beans	15,100
No. 10 string beans	4,855
No. 2 1/2 catsup	4,482
No. 10 catsup	36,481
No. 2 1/2 pumpkin	247
No. 10 pumpkin	14,323
No. 2 1/2 fruits	29,722
No. 10 fruits	28,000
Miscellaneous	951,128

This total reaches the immense number of 22,516,175 cans and represents the output of twenty-nine canning factories, and practically all of it has been marketed.

The largest factory is the plant of the Utah Canning company, situated at Twenty-ninth street and Pacific avenue. Other plants controlled by the same company include two in Brigham City, operating under the name of the Brigham City Canning company, and one in North Ogden, which is called the Utah Canning factory No. 2.

The local factory is the only one in the state that runs the entire year, and specializes upon the manufacture of catsup. It is also the only plant that produces pork and beans, hominy, sauerkraut and other special varieties of canned goods. The work of canning pork and beans will be started in the near future and will continue until about the first of May, when the factory will undergo the necessary overhauling to put the machinery in first class condition to take care of next year's tomato crop. For the present season, 60 barrels of pork have just been received and six carloads of Michigan beans are on the road, containing a total of 24,000 pounds of beans.

In connection with the above, Mr. Herrington states that the past season was one of the best that had been known to Utah canners, and that most of the contracts for next year's tomato crop had been signed, and that the association and the farmers were looking forward to another successful season.

CARPENTERS' DANCE IS THIS EVENING

Everything is in readiness at the New Colonial for the Thanksgiving dance, which will be given tonight under the auspices of the local Carpenters' union. A unique decorative scheme has been followed by the committee and the hall will present a fine appearance.

The refreshment feature will consist of an excellent luncheon, which will be served in the downstairs banquet room with a service of punch in the hall.

WAGON DROPS INTO A HOLE IN STREET

C. A. Farnell, a merchant of Utah, came to town yesterday for the purpose of purchasing supplies for his Thanksgiving trade. After getting about four hundred pounds of good things and loading them on his light, covered wagon, he drove his team at an easy gait up Twenty-fifth street, intending to turn south at Washington avenue and proceed homeward.

He did not get beyond Hudson avenue, however, for at that point the right front wheel of his outfit went into one of the big holes in the pavement, with the result that the axle, breaking off about eighteen inches from the hub of the wheel.

The horses were stopped before they could "start anything" and fortunately the driver was not thrown from his seat by the sudden drop of the wagon bed. The outfit was hauled on three wheels to a blacksmith shop for repairs.

MINISTERS TO ACT AS USHERS AT THE UNION SERVICES

Miss Edna Dwyer, one of the most prominent contralto soloists of Salt Lake City, will be in Ogden for Thanksgiving and will render the vocal numbers at the union services in the First Presbyterian church. Miss Dwyer has recently returned from study abroad and those who have heard her, speak very highly of her ability.

Besides Miss Dwyer there will be numbers by Miss Louise Pierce and Miss Beatrice Hamill. The service will commence promptly at 10:30 and close in good time for the dinner hour.

The following praise numbers will be given:

Prelude Miss Louise Pierce
Contralto Solo—"Evening and Morning"—Max Sticker
Miss Dwyer
Violin Offertory—"Dialogue, Heilmund"
Miss Beatrice Hamill
Contralto Solo—"Blessed"—Steyner
Miss Dwyer
Violin Obligato, Miss Hamill
Contralto Solo—"Oh, Love Divine"—Nevin
Miss Dwyer
Postlude Miss Pierce

There will be two departures from the usual custom at these services. The ministers have decided that, instead of all taking part in the general service, the entire service, for the sake of unity, should be conducted by the preacher of the day. The other innovation is that the ministers of the churches will act as ushers at the service. This new form of service will be followed for the next three years.

In accordance with the usual custom at these services, the offering will be divided between the Crittenton home and the Salvation Army.

The churches uniting in this service are: First and Second Congregational, German Evangelical, Swedish Lutheran, Holland Reformed, Salvation Army, First Baptist, First Methodist, First and Central Park Presbyterian. The sermon will be delivered by John Edward Carver.

REBELS PRAISE BRAVE FEDERAL

General Caraveo Puts Up Stubborn and Most Aggressive Fight Against Villa.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 26.—Constitutionalist officers, both on the battlefield and in Juarez, last night were loud in their praise of the brilliant work of General Caraveo, the last federal commander to withdraw from the battle and the one who put up the stubbornest and most aggressive attack on the rebel lines during the entire battle south of Juarez.

Despite the fact that General Caraveo was greatly outnumbered he kept up an incessant fire on the rebels on their right wing (west of Juarez) and tried repeated charges in the hope of bending the line.

At 8 o'clock Tuesday night he still was hammering away at the rebel entrenchments, but ceased his attempts to cut the line at 9 o'clock. General Jose Inez Salazar again was reported captured and authentic reports from the military barracks in Juarez were to the effect that a detachment of rebels from the east wing were bringing the federal general to the city.

General Villa stated last night in a message to Colonel Juan Medina that he was taking no chances and would not leave the field south of Juarez clear for a renewed attack or feint on the part of the federals.

There was some doubt in the minds of many in Juarez and El Paso as to the reason of the sudden withdrawal and retreat of the defeated federals. Some believe they were out of ammunition and could not resist another attack by the aggressive rebels, while others assert that the federal general feared an attack from the rear by General Manuel Chao, who was reported to be within 30 miles of Juarez, coming from the west of Chihuahua City.

The victory yesterday was a double victory in a way for the Maderistas. General Villa today is the only original Constitutionalist in the state of Chihuahua, having fought for the principles of Francisco I. Madero since the beginning of the Madero uprising in 1910.

Villa constantly has fought under the Madero flag. Practically all of the federal generals whom Villa defeated in the struggle at Tierrablanca and surrounding country have at various times fought under the Constitutionalist flag, but have deserted the cause and cast their lot with the Huertistas.

In the victory of Villa yesterday there was a victory for the Constitutionalist, Carranzistas and Maderistas. Villa prefers the name Maderista to that of Constitutionalist. It also gives the Constitutionalist absolute control over the state of Chihuahua.

The last shot fired at Bauche last night marked the close of the biggest and most stubbornly fought battle that had been recorded on the North American continent since the close of the civil war. There were more men engaged, the line of battle extended further and more dead are reported in the battle of Tierrablanca than in any other in the history of Mexico.

That the federals will not make an attempt to reorganize their disabled forces is generally conceded in Juarez. They have been cut off from the United States border on the north and from the rest of Mexico on the south. Rebels control practically every city of importance in the state of Chihuahua and the state capital is a completely isolated spot on the map of Mexico.

It is impossible for the federals to obtain supplies from the south on account of the many rebel commands surrounding the city and as Villa absolutely controls the northern portion of the state, those federals now in Chihuahua City under Governor General Mercado will be forced either to surrender or starve. They are destitute of ammunition.

PLAN TO FIGHT COST OF LIVING

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 26.—A warehouse in San Francisco, where the consumer may buy direct from the producer, was suggested at a mass meeting here last night to hear discussions and explanations as to why eggs are high. The meeting was under the auspices of the Peraluma Poultry Producers association. A committee of five was appointed to organize a permanent organization with the view of reducing the high cost of living so far as eggs and poultry are concerned. J. M. Murphy, president of the association, said the price of eggs is fixed by the Chicago market.

LOBBY HEARINGS TO BE RE-OPENED

Washington, Nov. 26.—Lobby hearings will be reopened next Tuesday by the senate investigating committee. Plans for the completion of the long investigation have been made by the committee and include the examination of Samuel Gompers, Frank Morrison and other officers of the American Federation of Labor, and of representatives of press associations and publicity concerns.

Labor leaders will not appear before the committee until January. Corliss Smith of New York, manager of the American Press association will testify next Tuesday.
